Small 4to. 84 leaves with 41 fine woodcuts (including some repetitions); bds. (1557) 12 0 (

EXTREMELY RARE. The dedication is dated 20 June 1556, and the preface ends on Thomas's day (21 December), 1556; so that we may assume the book was produced early in 1557. There is an edition printed at Marburg and bearing that year, in which there are rude cuts and an attempt at a map of part of Brazil. Here the woodcuts are very fine, and the map was not included among them.

The narrative is one of the most curious of all those that were published in the sixteenth century. The author went out for the second time in 1549 and returned in 1554 after having spent nine months in captivity among the Tupi people in Brazil. The second part of the book, which has a distinct title on its first page, is appropriated to a description of the ways of savage life.

The first book in French on the subject of Australia. It was no doubt reprinted from the excessively rare original Memorial printed in Spain about six years previously, but carefully suppressed by authority.

- 182 SAVILLE-KENT (W.) The Naturalist in Australia, illustrated by 50 full-page collotypes, 9 coloured plates by Keulemans and other artists, and over 100 illustrations in the text, portrait and autograph, royal 4to. (pub. £3. 3s), cloth 1897 1 7 0

I. General and Introductory. II. Birds. III. Lizards. IV. Termites (White Ants). V. Houtman's Abrolhos. VI. Fishes. VII. Pearl and Pearl-oysters. VIII. Marine Miscellanea. IX. Insect Oddities. X. Vegetable Vagaries. Appendix: The Boomerang.

A delightful volume of Natural History Sketches from West Australia, of interest alike to the general reader and to the scientific enquirer.

A considerable portion of the work deals with Mr. Saville Kent's specialité, Fishes and Aquatic Zoology, but other branches of Natural History, including both Zoology and Botany, receive a large share of attention.

Mr. Saville Kent was acting as Commissioner of Fishes to the Government of Western Australia, and devotes most of his book to the Natural History of that Colony.

- 183 WILLIAMS (W. L.) First lessons in Maori, with a short Vocabulary, square 16mo. cloth 1862 0 2 0

- 184 WEBBER (James) Views in the South Seas, impl. folio, 15 coloured plates (i.e. 16, wanting the ninth), hf. bd. 1808 2 16 0

Perhaps the earliest book giving pictorial representations of New Zealand.

- 185 Autographs. Letters from W. E. Gladstone (three, 1878-79-86); Dr. Jowett (two, no year date); Dean Stanley (one, 1873 or 1875); Stopford Brooke (one, no date); addressed to J. M. Capes who had sent his books 1873-86 6 10 0

All characteristic. The addressee had been "to Rome and back" and was fond of writing on the early church. Gladstone's last letter is a plain revelation (in four pages) of his sense of the "unreality of Genesis," but of his unwillingness to go any further on the road to disbelief.

Aubrey Beardsley is considered by his soundest and best qualified critics to have produced his greatest and most enduring work previous to, and during, his art editorship of "The Yellow Book." He stood as one alone in the world of artistic production, and Mr. Marillier, in his introduction to this volume, has justly stated that his incomparable genius was for the few; yet one is almost tempted to suggest, at least to hope, that that "few" is by no means insignificant; or, granting their lack in numbers, we may affirm with confidence that, included in that following, are some very noble and keenly critical minds.

- 194 ——— another copy, 8 vols. ruled throughout in red ink, calf rebaked, gilt edges 1657-69 12 0 0

This copy has the scarce original Commonwealth preface, to which has been added the Royal issue of the three leaves that were altered.

Walton's Polyglot includes Hebrew, Samaritan, Chaldee, Greek, Syriac, Arabic, Ethiopic, and Persian, with Latin, Vulgate, and other versions.

- 195 BIBLIA POLYGLOTTA . . . ex MSS. edidit Brianus Waltonus, 6 vols.—CASTELLI (Edmundi) Lexicon Heptaglotta, 2 vols.—together 8 vols. folio, ruled throughout with red ink; very fine copy in sound, uncracked old English blue morocco gilt, edges gilt, with the bookplate of Sir Robert Clayton (Lord Mayor of London 1679-80, owner of Marden in Surrey, M.P. for London, and a man of distinction in the English political world in the reigns of Charles II and James II) 1657-69 35 0 0
- Born in 1629, Sir Robert Clayton, who began life without education, had achieved at his death in 1707 a position of wealth and honour, which led to the foundation in his successor's person of a baronetcy that still flourishes. He was accused in his own time of usury and extortion, and of having resorted to unscrupulous measures in opposition to the Tory party, for which he narrowly escaped the block.
- Dryden mentioned him thus, in "Absalom and Achitophel":—
 "Blest times, when Ishban, he whose occupation
 So long has been to cheat, reforms the nation!"
- 196 NOVUM TESTAMENTUM COMPLUTENSE (being Vol. V of the Complutensian Polyglot wanting the ten leaves of list of Names), WITH CRANMER'S AUTOGRAPH "Thomas Cantuar" on the title-page, and that of Lord Lumley "Lumley" below it; having a press-mark "B. 2. 10. Th." [Alcala] 1514 50 0 0
- Cranmer's copy of the Complutensian Polyglot is in the British Museum; but it would appear that Vol. V must be missing in the set or replaced by a different copy.

- CONTENTS: Title, and table, 2 leaves; [a—z, Aa—Dd wanting]; Ee—Mmmmm 306 leaves; Metrical Psalms [A, B wanting], C—N₃, 43 leaves.—This would serve as a splendid nucleus towards the formation of a perfect copy. It lacks the Pentateuch, the first few leaves of Joshua, the New Testament, and the first eight leaves of the Metrical Psalms.

- 208 BIBLJ CESKE djl prwnj . . W nowe wgdane MD.LXXIX. 6 vols. sm.
4to & few leaves slightly mended, but a good copy in calf antique
[Kralitz in Moravia] 1579-1601 12 0 0
- EXTREMELY RARE, most of the copies having been burnt by the Catholic party. The book was printed at the private Moravian Press, established at Kralitz, by Baron Jan Zerotjn. The translation was made directly from the originals by several learned Moravians, and is renowned as one of the best versions of the Bible in any language. It was finished in 1593, but there are two editions of the sixth volume, of which the later one, dated 1601, is found in the above copy.
- 209 English. FRY (Fr.) Description of the Great Bible, 1539, and the six editions of Cranmer's 1540 and 1541, also of the editions of the Authorised Version in 1611 etc., folio, illustrated with facsimiles and original leaves of the books described; half morocco 1865 3 10 0
- 210 Greek. BIBLIORUM CODEX SINAITICUS Petropolitanus . . edidit Constantinus Tischendorf. Square folio, printed in facsimile of the original fourth century MS.; cloth Petropoli, 1862 36 0 0
- To the Emperor Alexander II, who bought the MS. and paid the expenses of its reproduction, the thanks of ten thousand scholars must be reverently paid.
- 211 FACSIMILE OF THE CODEX ALEXANDRINUS published by order of the Trustees of the British Museum (from the original fifth century MS.), 4 vols. square folio, bound in blue morocco, gilt tops, uncut 1879-81 30 0 0
- All honour to the English government which has enabled scholars to study in their own libraries the famous Codex Alexandrinus, reproduced here with absolute identity.
- 212 CODEX THEODORI BEZÆ CANTABRIGIENSIS . . edidit notasque adjecit Thomas Kipling . . Cantabrigiæ, MDCCXIII. 2 vols. folio, large paper, in a sumptuous blue morocco binding with Staggenmeier's ticket, and the bookplate of John Frere Cambridge, 1793 8 8 0
- Printed in types cut after the letters of the MS., so as to render this book an approximate facsimile of the Codex. The Gospels and Acts, in parallel Greek and Latin, in a hand of the sixth century, with many curious variations in the text. A grand example of binding.
- 213 CODEX BEZÆ Cantabrigiensis Qvattvor Evangelia et Actvs Apostolorvm complectens Græce et Latine . . 2 vols. impl. 4to. consisting of 510 leaves (830 pp.) of facsimile, back and front, cloth, uncut Cantabrigiæ, 1899 12 12 0
- This must be regarded as the first genuine and true edition of the famous Codex, which has been the cause of so much controversy, and which probably represents the Bible as known in Gaul towards the end of the sixth century.
- 214 THE PURPLE GOSPELS OF ROSSANO, in Greek, a MS. of the sixth century written in silver letters upon purple vellum, and adorned with MINIATURES of singular value and importance. A Treatise on the subject of the Miniatures, roy. 8vo. with 25 photographs; sd. Leipzig, 1899 1 12 0
- These Miniatures hold a very important rank as monuments in the history of Art. There is no such other collection in existence to illustrate the relationship between classical and Byzantine Christian Art and the relation of both to the mediæval Art of the West. The MS. was probably written in Byzantium in the time of Justinian. The pictures are akin rather to the earlier style of Græco-Roman than to the recognised Byzantine manner, and are suggestive of a new view of the elements which went to produce the Art of the Middle Ages.

- 226 CATALOGUE of a Collection of ENGLISH BALLADS of the XVIIth and XVIIIth centuries, stout sm. 4to. Privately printed at the Aberdeen University Press, 1890 5 5 0
One hundred copies printed.
Titles, ded. preface and contents, 8 leaves; the Catalogue of English Ballads, pp. 1-530; Additional References, pp. 531-534; List of Printers, Publishers, and Booksellers, pp. 535-546; Index, pp. 547-650; Appendices A and B, pp. 651-686; The Aberdeen University Press, the last leaf.
The arrangement is by an Alphabet of the first word in the first line, thus :
4. Adieu my dear whom I adore |
 thou art the cause of all my grief. |
 The despairing Youth's Grief | Crowned with Joy and Happiness, |
 By the Return of his Dear Love. |
 Forsaken Lovers thus complain, nay, and for Death will call ;
 But when their Loves return again,
 amends is made for all.
To the tune of, Black and sullen hour.
- 227 CATALOGUE of ENGLISH BROADSIDES, 1505-1897, stout sm. 4to. xl and 56 pp. cloth Aberdeen, privately printed, 1898 3 16 0

| 272 BRAUN (G.) and F. HOGENBERG. CIVITATES ORBIS TERRARVM . . (letterpress in French) 6 vols. in 3, folio, 363 plates of Views of Cities; old calf, from the Sunderland library (Cologne, 1572-1618) | | 21 0 0 |

The earliest general collection of Views of Cities and Palaces; including England, and presenting pictures of the greatest historical interest. Amongst the engravings which occupy the margins of the plates are figures representing the costumes of the people.

The number of plates is different in every copy and every issue, the book having usually been cut up into separate plates for sale amongst the people of the different countries interested—a proceeding which is still continuous. This copy contains an unusually large number of the engravings.

 In the Introduction Mr. Walters has discussed the methods of ancient bronze work, its artistic character and its uses. It seemed advisable that this should be done at some length, because attention has frequently been called to the want of a continuous statement of this kind in English.—A. S. Murray.

- 312 ANURÁDHAPURA, the ancient Capital of Ceylon, has long been a highly venerated locality in the eyes of the Buddhists, it having been honoured by the visit of Gautama Buddha in person in the sixth century before the Christian era. Amongst the vestiges of the former grandeur of this once mighty city, still to be found, are seven dome-shaped dagabas, or relic-shrines, which, although in ruins, convey a sufficient impression of what they must have been when first erected, and deserve the careful attention of students of Buddhist Architecture. These remarkable remains—never hitherto explored—will be found described in the present work, as well as certain other ruined structures of scarcely less importance to Archæologists.

In Cappadocia the civilisations of Assyria, Persia, and Greece were in contact; and the archaeological result of investigation was a rich one.

- HERBERT A. GILES'S WORKS:
- 338 CHINESE POETRY in English verse, 8vo. pp. iv and 212, sd. 1898 0 7 6
The Author's name and date are given of every Poem, most of them are of exquisite beauty. The English renderings are truthful, and reproduce the true spirit of the originals.
Some of these Poems were originally written centuries before our era.
Pp. 207-212 are an Alphabet of the Poets, in Roman and Chinese characters.
"These specimens of a few of the shorter pieces will serve in some degree to show the character and quality of the contents of the volume, which must be regarded as a distinct addition to our literature. It will also add not a little to the means which Western readers possess of knowing somewhat of the Chinese mind and view of life."
—The Aberdeen Daily Free Press, November 7th, 1898.
"The poems have an air of sincerity about them which makes faith in their linguistic fidelity; and the book has a strong interest, both on account of its poetical merits, which are of no mean order, and as a literary curiosity."—The Scotsman, November 7th, 1898.

This great Monumental work supersedes all its predecessors, and is indispensable for great Public Libraries.
- 341 CHINESE BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY, by HERBERT A. GILES, LL.D., Professor of Chinese in the University of Cambridge, 2 vols. 8vo. sd. 1898 2 12 0
"The second fascicule of Professor Giles' Chinese Biographical Dictionary having recently been published, we can the better appreciate the whole book, by no means the least useful of the author's numerous works. It is three times the size of the late Mr. Mayer's Chinese Reader's Manual which, as we are told in a preface, held the field since 1874 in this department of literature, and which this work is designed to supersede. It has been stated that the mode adopted by Mr. Giles in transliterating the Chinese characters is not that in vogue among sinologists on the Continent, but for members of the British Consular service, the Customs officials in China, who have nearly all learnt the language by means of what is known as Wade's System, and whose studies the present work is principally intended to assist, it is simply invaluable.
"The Index at the end of the volume, which contains the Chinese characters for all the literary and fancy names of those whose histories are recorded in the body of the work, is of the greatest importance, and must have cost Mr. Giles a vast amount of labour to compile. The whole book, in fact, will be hailed by every student of Chinese as supplying a long-felt want, and inasmuch as it gives the names of all the prominent Chinese statesmen of modern times it is thoroughly up to date."—London and China Telegraph, March 14th, 1898.

THE EARL OF CRAWFORD'S PRIVATELY PRINTED CONTRIBUTIONS TO HISTORY, GEOGRAPHY AND BIBLIOGRAPHY:—

- 400 FACSIMILES of three MAPPEMONDES of the sixteenth century from unique originals drawn at Dieppe in 1536, 1546, and 1550; 48 sheets in an imperial portfolio, red cloth, with a 4to. volume of accompanying text by C. H. COOTE only 100 copies privately printed, 1898 15 0 0
- The three celebrated World Maps here reproduced are (1) THE HARLEIAN MAPPEMONDE in the British Museum, to which the date of 1536 has been assigned, and which was probably done in the same place as 2 and 3. (2) THE JOMARD MAP, also called the Dauphin's Map, now in the Bibliotheca Lindesiana, drawn by Pierre Desceliers at Arques near Dieppe in 1546. (3) DESCELIER'S SECOND MAPPEMONDE of 1550, now in the British Museum.
- They are all valuable and important; and highly interesting in connection with Canada and the explorations of Cartier and Roberval, as well as with the vexed question of the Discovery of Australia. Each map is reproduced sectionally in 15 folio sheets, with a reduced entire facsimile on a sixteenth sheet which serves for a key map to the sections.
- No. 2 has been given in Jomard's atlas, but on a very reduced scale only; and it may be said that all three works appear here for the first time in perfect reproduction.

The scarce First Edition, the Text in MS.

This work gives a splendid general view of the Scenery and Antiquities of Upper Egypt, and will be most interesting to those who, having visited Egypt, wish for a scientific descriptive account of its chief attractions. It combines on a reduced scale the full views of David Roberts' Egypt with the scholarship of Champollion and Rosellini's works.

- 435 MOHAMMED ALI, 1769-1849. The Hon. Sir Charles Augustus Murray's Memoir of MOHAMMED ALI, founder of the Vice-Royalty of Egypt, edited by the Rt. Hon. Sir HERBERT MAXWELL, Bart., M.P., 8vo. portrait of the Author, cloth 1898 0 5 0

Only a small edition has been printed. Mohammed Ali was free from Oriental prejudices and superstitions, his life is a complete romance. His destruction of the Mameluks was a political necessity.

"The man who massacred the Mamelukes (or Memlooks as here spelt), who might have overthrown the Sultan but for Western intervention, who practically separated Egypt from the Ottoman Empire must always form an attractive theme. And never more so than in this brilliantly written and tactful memoir, by one who really understood the Oriental and who had rare opportunities to study the life and work of that wonderful Turk."—Pall Mall Gazette, Dec. 30th, 1898.

"Among the papers placed at the disposal of Sir Herbert Maxwell, when he was writing his biography of the late Hon. Sir Charles Murray, was a memoir of Mohammed Ali, written by Sir Charles, and apparently intended for publication. Some of the extracts of this attracted the attention of persons in Egypt interested in the development of the country, and at their request, and with Lady Murray's consent, this memoir has been published. 'A Short Memoir of Mohammed Ali' (Bernard Quaritch, London) is a very interesting essay which throws much light on the character of the founder of the Vicereignty of Egypt, and indeed, on the Egyptian question generally; and Sir Herbert Maxwell has done a good thing in publishing it. The late Sir Charles Murray had ample opportunities, in his capacity of Consul-General in Egypt, of studying the character of Mohammed Ali, and this little essay shows that he did not neglect to make use of them. The memoir, written in a lucid, if not brilliant, style, is a noteworthy contribution to the history of the nineteenth century."—Transport, Dec. 9th, 1898.

"Mr. Bernard Quaritch has published in a neat little volume (5s) a bright and able monograph by the late Hon. Sir Charles Augustus Murray, entitled 'A Short Memoir of Mohammed Ali.' Sir Herbert Maxwell, whose life of the author, published earlier in the year by Messrs. Blackwood, attracted very favourable notice, has edited this essay to which he had referred in that book. As Consul-General in Egypt from 1846 to 1853 Sir Charles Murray witnessed the close of the remarkable life which he depicted in this most interesting sketch, in which he evinces the large and profound knowledge he had of Oriental history and character, sums up the changes wrought by the strong personality of the great Viceroy, and reviews the progress made in the government and condition of Egypt under his rule. At the present moment the publication of this memoir is opportune, for it throws a great deal of light on the past and present history of Egypt."—The Homeward Mail, Nov. 28th, 1898.

| Mr. Heron-Allen has just brought out a new and revised edition of the "Rubāiyāt of Omar Khayyām" in Edward Fitzgerald's incomparable version. Side by side with Fitzgerald's text is a facsimile of the oldest known rendering of the quatrains from a unique manuscript in the Bodleian Library. Lowell declared that we were all shut up to one of two alternatives—either Omar was a Fitzgerald born out of due season, or the latter was a reincarnation of the Persian poet of the twelfth century. Mr. Heron-Allen's book has been greatly improved since its first appearance: scholarly notes and literal translations form his own chief contribution. They are of undoubted value as aids to the interpretation of a poem which would never have conquered the homage of the West if Fitzgerald had not lavished upon it his genius. The task grew in his wonderful hands, under alien skies, into a thing of beauty and a joy for ever. Edward Fitzgerald's "Rubāiyāt" of Omar Khayyām, with their original Persian sources, collated from his own MSS., and literally translated by Mr. Edward Heron-Allen, appear in a very handsome volume, published at 7s 6d, by Mr. Bernard Quaritch, 15, Piccadilly, W. The comparisons are extremely interesting. Fitzgerald, it was well known, took pretty free liberties with the original, and Mr. Heron-Allen lets the general reader into the whole secret, showing—sometimes rather amusingly—how much in Fitzgerald's Rubāiyāt we owe to that peculiar genius and how much to Omar. The book has an exquisite allegorical frontispiece. "Mr. Heron-Allen has done good service in setting the question of the real relation of Fitzgerald to his original at rest. "The most enthusiastic devotees of the 'Tentmaker' can hardly ask for more. "The literature of the subject seems complete, so far as Fitzgerald is concerned, and a critical examination of the genuineness of the endless quatrains ascribed to Omar Khayyām, though eminently desirable, would scarcely interest the mere worshipper. Unless an agitation is set on foot for a monument in Westminster Abbey or some other national testimonial to the poet, the 'cult' may now, perhaps, allow a little rest to itself—and the public."—Saturday Review, April 15th, 1899. | | | |

| 481 | VOCABULA AMATORIA: a French-English Glossary of Words, Phrases, and Allusions occurring in the works of Rabelais, Voltaire, Molière, Rousseau, Béranger, Zola, and others, with English Equivalents and Synonyms. In one volume fcap. 4to. of upwards of 300 double-columned pages, on good paper, with wide margins London. Privately printed for subscribers only, 1896 | 1 | 1 | 0 |
| | It is a matter of some note that many words and phrases constantly met with in French classics—in the works, for instance, of RABELAIS, VOLTAIRE, MOLIÈRE, ROUSSEAU, and BÉRANGER—find no place either in ordinary French-English dictionaries or in Argot-Slang glossaries. Moreover, French lexicons professing to deal with such words (which are chiefly erotic in character) treat the subject so exclusively from a suggestive point of view that they utterly fail to command the attention of the honest student. | | | |

Vocabula Amatoria fills this gap, the words receiving plain yet orderly definition, whilst thousands of apt and illustrative quotations show usage and application. Besides the ordinary dictionary definition, an English classical equivalent will in most cases be given, together with other notes of value and interest to the student, for whom alone this work is intended.

- "The photographic illustrations of what Miss Jekyll has accomplished in her own pleasure will make every one who reads her book instantly long to taste the delights of making unto themselves such a paradise of flowers and trees as she has created."—World.
- "Will take its place as a classic when most of the rubbishy books beloved of the thoughtless public will be forgotten. It is the record of the author's own experience in Surrey. It is the reflex of the writer's intelligence and taste."—Athenæum.
- "A beautiful book. A book worthy of the garden among the Surrey hills, which those who have seen it declare to be a paradise indeed. Many an English garden will take colour from these pages. Many an English gardener, too, gifted perhaps with highly-trained artistic senses, and with a pure and ardent love for what is true and beautiful, will they set a-thinking of Aladdin's lamp or the purse of Fortunatus."—Daily News.

494 GROTESQUE ALPHABET of 1464, reproduced in facsimile from the original woodcuts in the British Museum. With an Introduction by C. DODGSON, M.A., Assistant in the Department of Prints and Drawings. Folio, bds. 1899 0 7 6

"The Grotesque Alphabet, which is here produced for the first time in facsimile; has enjoyed for eighty years a high reputation as one of the most artistic and remarkable productions of the art of wood-engraving in the fifteenth century. It is rare indeed at that period to find so spirited a design, or a craftsman so capable of preserving its vigour and elasticity in the process of cutting it on the block."—Extract from Introduction.

| The interest in Warren Hastings is still alive. Amongst the many good qualities of this great Englishman was his love of books. Some 35 years ago I attended the sale at Daylesford of his Library and bought amongst other books a set of the De Bry Voyages and Travels to the East and the West; he had also a fine collection of Indian Drawings. | | | |

The engraved title of the first book is a beautiful piece of engraving by Leopoldt. Both books give an interesting account of the execution of the Carthusian monks in London. It was after this event that the Carthusian monastery and its lands were confiscated by Henry VIII, which later passed into the hands of Thos. Sutton, and are still in the possession of the Charterhouse.

Imperfect sets completed.

This Appendix completes Mr. Batty's great work on the Copper Tokens and the Regal Copper Coinage of our country, to the Jubilee Year, 1887.

The Bronze Series (1860-1887) was in rough MSS. only, and I undertook to complete it for press, as Mr. Batty died before he was able to finish it himself.

I desire to call the attention of Numismatists to the enormous amount of labour the Author has devoted to this harassing task, which occupied the greater part of his life.

It was in 1868 that Mr. Batty printed and issued the first part in Manchester, so that this work has taken thirty years to bring out.

Several of the largest Copper Collections were at his disposal for comparison with his own extensive one; these represented the labours of several lives, and every care has been taken to ensure the most complete and accurate descriptions.

Mr. Batty's principle was that "where there is the slightest difference between two coins, those coins cannot have been struck from the same die."

The result of carrying out this idea, has been that not only every type, but every known die is recorded.

Where large flaws appear, the dies were giving way, so that many of those specimens are unique.

The work is, in fact, a complete Catalogue of the Copper, Tin, and Bronze Coinage of Great Britain and Ireland, and it will always rank as the Standard Reference Work for that Coinage.

- The above publication, which has just been issued in continuation of the work, by the same author, descriptive of the Glover Collection of the Coins of China, Japan, Annam, and Corea, entitled The Currency of the Farther East (printed and published in 1895), the entire edition of which has been sold out.
- The present volume is intended to serve as a guide to the dates and inscriptions of the coins of China, Annam, Japan, Corea, and of the coins with Chinese characters issued in the East Indian Archipelago, Borneo, Siam, and the Malay Peninsula.
- Every one interested in the numismatics of the Farther East must have experienced the difficulties of deciphering the inscriptions of Ear Eastern coins, and of assigning each coin to its proper date of issue. It is hoped that this volume will, to a great extent, remove those difficulties.
- To facilitate inquiry into the date of the issue of each coin, chronological tables have been compiled, giving the Emperors and Dynasties of China, Annam, and Japan. The edition consists of only 250 copies.

	These Miniatures hold a very important rank as monuments in the history of Art. There is no such other collection in existence to illustrate the relationship between classical and Byzantine Christian Art and the relation of both to the mediæval Art of the West. The MS. was probably written in Byzantium in the time of Justinian. The pictures are akin rather to the earlier style of Græco-Roman than to the recognised Byzantine manner, and are suggestive of a new view of the elements which went to produce the Art of the Middle Ages.

Ridinger's Sporting Prints:

 Johann Elias Ridinger was born in Ulm, Feb. 16th, 1698 (Feb. 15th, 1695?) and died in Augsburg, April 10, 1767. After receiving tuition from Resch in Ulm and Falk in Augsburg he lived for three years in Ratisbon. On his return to Augsburg he produced his unrivalled series of about 1400 engravings of animals. No other age or country has ever brought forth so eminent an exponent of the art that Ridinger made his own. His bold masterful style is totally dissimilar to the more refined work of our English Landseer, nor can the humorous sketches of Alken be for one instant compared with the German master's serious efforts at portraying the details of the chase, and the shooting of game. On the continent and in English artistic circles he has long been appreciated, but until within the last year or so, collectors of all things sporting have somewhat neglected him. However, the eagerness with which his engravings are now being sought for, begins to show that this neglect can no longer be laid to their charge.

The following is a large and fine assemblage of original impressions (unless otherwise stated) from an old library recently dispersed. The collations are based on Thienemann.

| COLLATION. Plates 1 (engraved title)-40. | | | |
| On the appearance of this reprint the engraved title was numbered 1, the plates numbered 1-10 in the original issue being altered to 2-11. The omission of plate 11 of the original issue then rendered any alteration of the numbers of the remaining plates (12-40) unnecessary. | | | |
| The plates represent deer, wild boars, wolves, foxes, wild cats, hares, beavers, otters, badgers, weasels, bears, lions, leopards, reindeer, elk, tigers, wild horses, etc. | | | |

1017	ALKEN. IDEAS, ACCIDENTAL AND INCIDENTAL TO HUNTING, AND OTHER SPORTS; CAUGHT IN LEICES TERTSHIRE, &c. BY HENRY ALKEN. LONDON: PUBLISHED BY THOMAS M'LEAN, 26, HAYMARKET. Upright folio, COMPLETE, with 42 coloured plates of the GENUINE FIRST ISSUE, one or two margins of which are strengthened; in the publisher's half morocco binding with leather label on side; EXCESSIVELY RARE Dates on the plates, 1826-30	52	10	0

A COPY OF THE FIRST ISSUE OF THE RAREST OF ALL ALKEN'S BOOKS.

Before copies had time to circulate, the stock of this first issue was partly destroyed by fire. By utilising some undamaged plates and reprinting others, a small second issue was brought out, copies of which were bound up in oblong folio not, as were those of the first issue, in upright folio. A comparison of copies of the two issues would at once reveal the uniform brilliancy of the one and the mixed excellence of the other. To the collector, in the absence of any such comparison, the "size" test is sufficient evidence as to correctness of "state."

The works of Alken, before those of any other author or engraver, are becoming more and more inaccessible by reason of the constantly increasing demand for coloured sporting books and prints. It therefore behoves the conscientious collector to at once secure the above example of Alken's scarcest work.

A reproduction in photographic facsimile of the unique MS. original now preserved in Stockholm, five large sheets folded in an impl. portfolio, with a roy. 8vo. explanatory text by E. W. Dahlgreen (in English), published at £2. 16s Stockholm, 1892 | 1 0 |
| The existence of this unique map was only recently made known. It is a work of great Cartographical importance, especially for the American student: Santa Cruz having been the Cosmógrafo Mayor of the Royal Department of Charts at Seville. Dahlgren believes that it may be regarded as an exact replica of the Pattern-Map now lost, of which copies were furnished to Spanish seamen sent out by the Crown to America. Only 100 copies have been reproduced. | |

Arabic:

THE KORAN, with Commentary of the Imam Aboo al-Quasim Mahmood bin bin 'Omar al-ZAMAKHSHARI, entitled the KASHSHAF 'au Haqaiq al-Tanzil, Arabic, edited by W. N. Lees, and Mawlavis Khadim Hosain and 'Abd al-Hayi, 2 vols. royal 4to. (pub. £5. 16s unbound), hf. morocco, £3. 3s
Calcutta, 1856-61

The most valuable and correct edition of the Koran that has ever been published; enriched with the famous exposition called the Kashshaf, written in the eleventh century of the Christian era by the famous Zamakhshari, who, although a shi'ite, is regarded by the whole Mohammedan world as a commentator of unrivalled learning.

GREEK PAPYRI: Facsimiles, in a royal folio portfolio containing 138 plates, £7. 5s; or, bound, £7. 15s 1893

—— CATALOGUE, with the texts edited by Kenyon, 4to. cloth, £2. 2s 1893

This is a catalogue and reproduction of all the Greek Papyri acquired by the Museum down to the year 1890, including those which had been printed in Forshall's defective volume of 1839. It is a work of the highest importance, consisting as it does of Greek documents (found in Egypt) ranging from the third century before Christ to the ninth century after—all of palæographical value, and some of them extremely interesting as historical and literary monuments. The folio plates contain the texts in exact facsimile, the quarto volume reproduces them typographically.
